With the current focus on programming there is a danger that this aspect will not receive the attention that it should. Will include an examination of various wildlife-related "big data" projects that schools can get involved with.
2. Bring and share*
3. A quick look at decimal and computing prefixes (carried over from last time)
4. E-safety updates

*Colleagues are asked to bring one or two items or ideas to share with everyone. Items could include a useful website, some other good resource, an interesting piece of hardware or software, a classroom activity that went well, a handy tip or technique or anything else that might be useful to support learning in Computing or when ICT is being used to support other subjects.

Summary directions to Courthouse Junior School
